Dynamite Church At Niagara Falls

Underworld Suspected of Outrage In Retaliation For Vice Crusade Conducted By Pastor—Police Find Fragments of Bomb.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Niagara Falls, N. Y., Aug. 14.—The First Baptist Church, whose pastor, Rev. A. B. Mercer, has been engaged in a vigorous anti-vice campaign, was mysteriously dynamited and badly damaged early today.

In some quarters, it is suspected the dynamiting was done or instigated by members of the underworld.

Every window in the church was shattered. Plaster was ripped from the walls and windows and doors wrecked. The foundation, however, withstood the blast.

The entire neighborhood was rocked by the blast. In the Y. W. C. A. building across the street every window was smashed. In the Corcoran George C. Shepard residence nearby, windows were broken. An apartment house on the same side of the street as the church felt the force of the explosion, several windows being broken.

In another house several were thrown out of their beds.

Not a person was injured, as near as the police can determine.

The blast occurred shortly before 3 o'clock this morning. The terrific noise came with startling suddenness out of the stillness of the night.

Several fragments of a crude, home made bomb were found by the police. The explosive had apparently been placed on the top landing of the steps to the entrance of the church. Authorities are puzzled to understand how it failed to completely demolish the entire front of the building as the force of the blast shattered windows half a block away and across the street.

The Rev. Mr. Mercer had conducted a vigorous campaign to stamp out vice in the Falls all summer. Heading the council of churches, and with the assistance of other pastors, he had forced the police to close a number of places of questionable repute and several court cases are pending. There had been threats of harm to individuals of the council.

Around the World With the Flyers

By Telegram to The Freeman.

On board U. S. Cruiser Richmond, off Reykjavik, Iceland, Aug. 14.—(By wireless)—Lieutenant Lowell Smith and Lieutenant Nelson, U. S. Army "round-the-world" aviators, today because of ice conditions.

"We hope to hop off for Angmagssalik tomorrow if it is at all possible," Lieutenant Smith said. "The last word from Lieutenant Schulz, advance flight officer on the Raleigh, is that it is possible to land at Angmagssalik amid the ice, but it is impossible to hop off. He is advising us to wait for favorable word from him. I will follow his advice to a certain extent."

The Richmond is prepared to leave for Greenland.

Indian Harbor, Labrador, Aug. 14.—Lieutenant Schulz, advance flight officer, and Lieutenant Leigh Wade, one of the original pilots in the United States Army "round-the-world" flight, reported from the cruiser Raleigh today they were having difficulties in communicating Greenland weather conditions to Reykjavik, Iceland.

There is heavy ice pack off Angmagssalik Harbor.

Flight Postponed Again.

London, Aug. 14.—Ice has again closed on the Angmagssalik, Greenland harbor, and compelled a postponement of the flight of Lieutenant Lowell Smith and Lieutenant Nelson, according to radiogram from Reykjavik, Iceland today.

Following receipt of wireless communications from the U. S. Cruiser Raleigh off the Greenland coast, American fleet officials conferred with the round-the-world pilots to consider the situation.

Earlier advices had stated that the Danish supply ship Gertrud Rask had succeeded in opening a lane through the ice pack to land supplies at Angmagssalik for the airman.

McCoy Held for Woman's Death

Police Claim Pugnacious Confessed Shooting Divorcee With Whom He Lived—McCoy Says He Loved Her.

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 14.—"I loved her as I never loved a woman before. I didn't kill her."

That was as far as police had reached after hours of grilling here today in an effort to make Norman Selby, known through a long ring career and in motion pictures as "Kid McCoy," confess he had murdered Mrs. Theresa Mors, Tuesday night in the fashionable Nottingham apartments here.

While McCoy denied the killing, police moved swiftly, throwing about him a net of damning evidence. They said before the day was over his own sister, a woman whose name they withheld, would appear before District Attorney Keys and repeat the confession police asserted she said McCoy made to her.

"He came to my house at 2 o'clock Wednesday morning and told me he killed Mrs. Mors," is what the authorities quote McCoy's sister as telling them.

"McCoy is guilty and has already confessed to his sister," Assistant Captain of Detectives Herman Cline said today. "He killed her about ten o'clock Tuesday night. Then he started out to look for Mors. He was angry because he had heard Mrs. Mors was going to leave him. He washed his bloody hands, stuck his picture in her arms and then went gunning. Then he shot W. G. Ross and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Schapp. He might have gone on shooting, but then we got him."

Mors, wealthy former New York metal manufacturer, found by police hours after the murder, could throw no light upon the murder of his former wife. Mors was in no way connected with the woman's death, police said.

Ross, one of McCoy's victims, a millionaire of Cleveland and Beverly Hills, a Los Angeles suburb, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Schapp, were severely wounded by McCoy but are expected to recover.

"My lights went out when I saw Theresa dead," the former pugilist told police after briefly stating he was talking to Mrs. Mors when she suddenly whipped out a pistol, later found in the apartment with a single cartridge exploded, and killed herself.

McCoy said he went to the apartment to live with Mrs. Mors August 7, the day she was divorced.

"I love her as I never loved a woman," he said. "She is dead now. But I still love her and I don't care what becomes of me. I was going to marry her just as soon as we could get things right side up again. Now this thing has happened and I can never again be happy."

"Tuesday afternoon we went out for an automobile ride. We drove all evening and returned to the apartment at about 8 o'clock. Theresa was very much downhearted and I was trying to cheer her up. At last she would stand it no longer and was going to end it all. She took her revolver out of a drawer and then I jumped for her. But she shot herself just as I reached her."

Police do not believe the actor's story. They said the woman was shot in the left side of the head, her body was bruised and beaten, stuck in many places with a pin or knife and that she could not have inflicted the wound that caused her death.

Brooklyn Gunmen Kill Jeweler

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 14.—Andrew Puleo, Brooklyn jeweler, was shot and killed early today by gunmen firing from an automobile. Both charges of a double barreled shotgun entered Puleo's body. Police said they believed the murder was the outcome of a feud.

Puleo was talking with a friend, Charles Russo, when the gunmen's auto pulled up to the curb. Without a word, the occupants opened fire, Russo told police. Puleo fell and the car sped away.

A sawed-off shotgun, which police believe was used in the shooting, was found in some rubbish near the scene. The shooting occurred in a section where twenty-five murders have been committed in the last year.

Mowers Drowns in Rondout Creek

Catherine Street Negro, Unable to Swim, Loses Life—Body Recovered by Peter Golgoski—Efforts to Revive Youth Unsuccessful.

Frederick Mowers, a twenty-year-old negro residing with his father, William Mowers, at No. 239 Catherine street, was drowned in the Rondout creek about 12:30 o'clock this afternoon while attempting to swim. The body was recovered by Peter Golgoski, who is employed on the W. F. & R. boatyard.

Mowers, with John Henion, a youth residing at No. 246 Catherine street, had gone to the creek to enjoy a swim. They selected the dock adjoining the W. F. & R. boatyard on the Strand. At the point selected there is a ladder formed of two trips of board nailed to the dock. Just north of the ladder there is a large barge moored to the dock.

From the story as told by young Henion, he was in the water swimming when Mowers said he was going to try it. Mowers climbed down the ladder into the water and was attempting to swim to the rope used in mooring the barge to the dock, a distance of several feet.

As Mowers struck the water he suddenly began to sink. As he did so he grasped young Henion by the arm. Henion, however, was unable to hold Mowers up, as he was much heavier, and the negro's grip relaxed and he suddenly plunged beneath the surface.

An alarm was immediately raised and Golgoski, who was eating his dinner on the boatyard, ran to the scene and then he learned that the negro had gone under and had not come up. He plunged into the creek and found the body lying on the bottom of the creek. Golgoski brought the body to the surface and first aid treatment was administered.

In the meantime a hurry call was sent to police headquarters and Officer Burger and Dempsey were rushed to the scene with the lung-motor, which is kept at the city hall. When the officers reached the dock they found that every effort was being made to revive the negro by rolling his body over a log. The lung-motor was applied but the youth was dead.

Coroner W. N. Conner and Dr. A. A. Stern were notified. When they arrived they found that Mowers was beyond medical aid.

Will Adopt Dawes Plan, Says Hughes

By Telegram to The Freeman.

New York, Aug. 14.—"I am very hopeful of the situation abroad and believe that the Dawes report will be accepted and put into effect very shortly," said Charles Evans Hughes, secretary of state, here today, on his return from Europe.

Secretary and Mrs. Hughes returned on the President Harding.

The secretary declined to comment on American politics, but volunteered a denial of the Soviet charges that his trip abroad was part of his plot against Bolshevism.

Hughes said the trip was his sixty-fourth crossing and was the best he had ever made. Most of it, he said, was spent on the bridge of the ship with Captain Paul Grening.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes departed immediately for Washington to attend the notification ceremonies of the Republicans tonight.

Germany Accepts Ruhr Proposals

By Telegram to The Freeman.

London, Aug. 14.—After a day of intensive conference during which the allied reparations conference seemed on the verge of collapse, the German delegation late this afternoon announced its intention of accepting the French proposals for the evacuation of the Ruhr.

"We are disappointedly going to accept the French proposals tonight," the German announcement said.

The French proposals give France and Belgium a year to withdraw their troops from the Ruhr, although they may be withdrawn sooner if Paris and Brussels deem it expedient.

At the first meeting the French and Germans were instructed to renew their direct negotiations in an effort to fix a mutually satisfactory date for withdrawal from the Ruhr.

After the second meeting, which lasted twenty minutes, the members of the council departed in an obviously pessimistic frame of mind.

The French demand eleven months for the evacuation of the Ruhr, along with certain pledges from the Germans. The Germans want an earlier date set.

Strong efforts were made to effect a compromise. Frank D. Kellogg, the American ambassador, and Colonel J. A. Logan, one of the American official observers, were most active.

"Things look a little better," M. Bergery, chief of the French cabinet, told International News Service after the second council meeting.

"We have not broken down. We will meet again later in the day."

British aid was sought today to break the deadlock.

Gustav Stresemann, German foreign secretary and one of the chiefs of the German delegation to the Allied reparations conference, called upon Premier Ramsay MacDonald in this connection. Premier MacDonald expressed hope that an agreement could be reached during the day, saying the British were reluctant to intervene at this stage.

Clouds of pessimism began to loom up after the council meeting. But there was one ray of hope in the statement of a German official:

"Neither side can afford to let the conference break up."

Chancellor Marx was notified by Berlin that, if Ruhr evacuation is held off for another year, the Reichstag will probably refuse to approve such an agreement.

An interesting rumor was current that the French might evacuate the Ruhr before the end of the present year, but are insisting that a later date be set officially to appease public opinion in France. French experts were said to realize that the German international railway organization cannot function properly while French troops are in the Ruhr.

Asked Murder to Show Her Power

By Telegram to The Freeman.

Benton Harbor, Mich., Aug. 14.—Florence McKinney, pretty farm girl, who drove Emil Zupke's automobile while he, sitting beside her, strangled the life out of her rival, Cora Raber, suggested the murder to show her power over Zupke, Sheriff George Bridgman asserted today after a night of questioning the girl.

The McKinney girl did not want to marry "Ace" Zupke, the scapegrace young farmer who was thrown out of his own home by his father two weeks ago. She had no particular enmity for her rival, the girl who wanted Zupke to marry her to give her expected child a name, according to the sheriff. She just wanted to show her power, the sheriff said.

Both Zupke and the McKinney girl are held on warrants charging first degree murder.

Florence McKinney had shown that she could "take Ace away" from Cora Raber, the sheriff pointed out, but didn't want to marry him and told the sheriff so.

The victim of the plot, who went with Zupke that night in the expectation of marrying him, wore her wedding finery—a white satin gown, white silk stockings, white shoes and the dainty lingerie of a bride. The shoes, stockings and lingerie were on the body when it was found huddled and hidden near the road, but the wedding gown was missing. Sheriff Bridgman questioned Zupke and Florence McKinney to learn if the body had been taken elsewhere and the brown slip, which Mrs. Raber, mother of the slain girl, said she did not recognize, put on in the place of the bridal sash.

Both denied this had been done. They were also silent when confronted with evidence that three days after the murder they had driven fifteen miles to Baroda, gone to a picture show and that there, Miss McKinney had told Louis Ott, another admirer, that she feared Zupke had killed Cora Raber.

Which Was Favorable for Observation of His Power of Concentration, Says State Alienist

By Telegram to The Freeman.

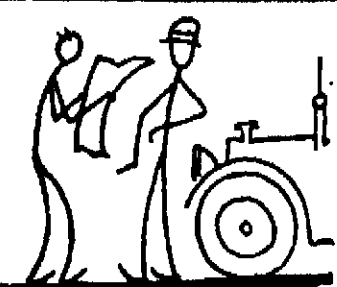

Criminal Court, Chicago, Aug. 14.—The conflict of medical theories and psychological impressions that has turned the Loeb-Leopold trial into the "alienists' battle of the century," was resumed with intensity before Judge John R. Caverly today with the defense lawyers seeking to break down in cross-examination the conclusions of Dr. Hugh T. Patrick for the state, that the slayers of Bobby Franks are sane, normal and responsible.

The opinion of the state's alienists that Dicky Loeb and Nathan Leopold are not mentally diseased is based largely upon examinations they conducted within a few hours after both boys had calmly confessed they killed Bobby Franks and revealed the amazing plot by which it was accomplished.

The defense endeavored to prove today that this examination was hasty, superficial, and could in no way compare to the careful X-ray and microscopic work by which the defense doctors arrived at their conclusions that the young slayers have pronounced mental and emotional disorders.

Proceeding on this line, Benjamin Bachrach, one of the defense lawyers, put Dr. Patrick through a sharp questioning today concerning the examination.

Dr. Patrick said he had a long talk with Nathan Leopold, that they discussed birds and psychological subjects, such as the relation of insects to reasoning and on the whole, he said, his observations of the young slayer were conducted under "very favorable circumstances."

Edward Reynolds Talks to Rotary

Ulster County Boy, Now General Manager of Postal Telegraph Company, Gives Interesting Reminisccent Talk.

"From Messenger Boy to General Manager," might have been the title of the address made to the Rotary Club at the luncheon this week by Edward Reynolds, general manager of the Postal Telegraph Company, but it was not. The address had no title. Mr. Reynolds began business life as messenger for the office of a small local telegraph company in Catskill 44 years ago, later had charge of the office, was in charge of the B. and O. Telegraph Company's office in Saugerties, worked in the West Shore dispatchers office in this city and in almost every West Shore station between Weehawken and Syracuse. In 1900 he became general auditor of the Postal Telegraph Company and 12 years later became general manager.

Having worked at everything connected with telegraphy, Mr. Reynolds said he thought he had the experience on which to base some conclusions. One conclusion was that most of the abuses practiced by union labor today were the result of the attitude of corporations toward labor 30 or 35 years ago. Employers today are reaping the whirlwind from the sowing of those days. Men were compelled to work 12 hours a day, seven days a week, and often required to remain at work for 24 hours without rest. One instance cited by Mr. Reynolds was of an occasion when after working all night at New Durham, 12 hours, he was ordered to Kingston to work in the dispatchers office and then at 3 o'clock in the afternoon ordered to the north yard for the night. "You may ask why men did it," said Mr.
Reynolds, "and the answer is that we had to do it or be without work."

When Mr. Reynolds began work at telegraphy the old Morse machine was in use for receiving messages on a tape. As operators became more expert this was abandoned.
Now a new machine is coming into use. The telegraph is only 80 years old and when Professor Morse asked congress for an appropriation of $30,000 with which to complete his experiments, there was strong objection on the ground that his ideas were merely a dream. When the telephone came in many thought it would displace the telegraph, but the telephone has supplemented the telegraph and brings it much more business. Radio is also supplementing the telephone and the telegraph but will not displace them.

The Postal has no labor problem, in the way of strikes and union scales because it treats all alike and makes efficiency and service the basis of wages. Wage scales are not so important as is the application of the scale in such a way as to give exact justice. Operators are rated monthly on the amount of work done. The cost per message is ascertained and the pay is fixed accordingly. The ratings of operators are bulletined, so there is no secrecy between employees as to work done and amount of pay.

Telegraph and cable rates are lower now than 20 years ago although wages and material are much higher. An office such as Kingston or Poughkeepsie that paid $60 a month 20 years ago now pays $115 or $120 a month. Greater efficiency, brought about by a real competitive service, is the reason for this. As to speed, if a New Orleans cotton broker sells by cable in the London market and does not get confirmation of his order in four or five minutes he thinks he is getting poor service. A message sent around the world by the king of England from London made the circuit in 80 seconds and before the last part of the message was sent out from London the first part was coming in from its trip around the globe.

As to child labor, Mr. Reynolds said when he read of some of the welfare legislation so much in fashion he could not but recall that in 1884 he was manager of a telegraph office when he copied the election returns, was less than 16 years of age—and it had not hurt him.
Boys of 16 years or younger are more amenable to training and more ambitious than young men of 18, and it is this early training that fits them for success. Take a messenger boy of 14 or 16 years and ask him to help with the office work and he is proud to do it. He will show what is in him, develop an interest and secure for himself training that fits him for promotion. But take him at 18 years and ask him to help with office work and he says "Nothing doing. I wasn't hired for that."
So he goes on as a messenger, fitting himself for nothing else.

TODAY WE CELEBRATE

ANNIE S. PECK.

The first mountain climber to attain an altitude of 25,000 feet was Miss Annie S. Peck, who broke all previous records by attaining the summit of Mount Hauscaran, Peru, the highest peak of the Western Hemisphere, 15 years ago today, on August 14, 1909. The previous record for mountain climbing was held by W. W. Graham, who reached a height of 23,800 feet in the Himalayas. Miss Peck's first attempt to reach the summit of Hauscaran failed on account of the cowardice of her guides, after she had reached 17,500 feet.

In 1908 she was accompanied by Rudolph Tangwald and Gabriel Zumtawald, two famous Swiss guides, who suffered severely from underestimating the cold, and failing to have enough clothing. Tangwald was terribly frozen, one of his ears and all the fingers of one hand had to be amputated.
Miss Peck, better provided with clothing, escaped unscathed.

RADIUM.

scientific institution, which was one of the cherished projects of the late King Edward, owns radium valued at several hundred thousand dollars, and with this stock has carried on extensive investigations. Dr. Wickhart, of Paris, was the pioneer in using radium as a curative agent, and also invented the metal screen, without which radium would be extremely dangerous to use. Three kinds of emanations are emitted by radium,

Saxophone (Yak Brown) Folia de
The first records of display character this sterling artist has for some time. A bewitchingly beautiful Saratoga dance and a madly capricious Humoresque by a living English composer. Records you will want to hear and own.

Sweethearts—Selection (Hebert) Victor Herbert's Orchestra
"On Parade"—"Angels"—"Prize as a Picture"—"Caret on the Beach"—"Jazzette's Wooded Shore"—"Sweetheart"
His own "Devotion" was the last work ever conducted for us by Victor Herbert, and this record is the last we ever can issue from his own hand. It is fitting to the occasion.

Folk Dances

(1) Broom Dance (2) Bummel Schottische	Victor Band	19348	.75
(1) Gossipping Ulla (2) On the Bridge of Avignon	Victor Band

Dance Records

Walla-Walla-Fox Trot	Paul Whiteman and His Orchestra	19389	.75
Dixie's Favorite Son-Fox Trot
Whiteman fox trots in comic style. The first has amusing echoes, for various instruments, of an amusing vocal refrain; the second is brilliant but amusing, too. No matter how many Whiteman records you have, you'll also want this one.
Pickin' 'Em Up and Layin' 'Em Down	The Benson Orchestra of Chicago	19386	.75
The Doodle-um Blues-Fox Trot
Finely melodious fox trots—splendid hot-weather numbers that will last you through the winter. Easily danced to, and lasting in appeal. Records you will want to keep handy.
Rock-a-Bye My Baby Blues-Waltz	The Troubadours	19387	.75
Tears of Happiness-Waltz	The Benson Orchestra of Chicago
The first number is an excellent waltz in the popular manner, with a yodel refrain based on "Emmett's Lullaby"; the other has deep-toned melodies with plenty of strings. Records that adequately fulfill every wish of the dancer.

There is but one Victrola and that is made by the Victor Company—look for these Victor trade marks.

CATHERINE LUCRETIA HERSHEY.

Excelled in the science of mathematics and astronomy. She came to England from Hanover, Germany, with her brother, who became organist at Bath. In time she turned her attention from music to astronomy, and mathematics, and under the reign of George III, whose favor she gained, he became the greatest astronomer of his age. In his work he was assisted by his sister, who is recognized as the greatest female astronomer that ever lived. Besides her studies she was devoted to her brother, whom she had often to feed, so deeply was he immersed in his work, which he carried on for forty years near Windsor.

In 1793 Caroline published "A Catalogue of Stars" since highly prized by astronomers. After the death of her brother in 1822, she returned to Germany, where she died a few years later.

Thought Bathing Spoiled Fish

Michael Kennelly Forbade Morris Crystal from Going in Pond He Had Leased—Argument Leads to Arrest.

The question of whether a man has a right to bathe in his own pond after he has leased it to another for the purpose of keeping fish will be determined before Judge Henry E. McKenna at Port Ewen on Monday, August 18.

Michael Kennelly and his son Edward, aged 14, brought up the subject Wednesday afternoon when Morris Crystal, the owner of the pond, attempted to swim in the pond. Crystal objected very strenuously, in fact so strenuously that Kennelly and his son, and State Trooper Coons and Deputy Sheriff Ellis were sent to Port Ewen to enforce the law. In the meantime Kennelly came to Kingston to report the matter to the sheriff and was detained at the office until a warrant arrived for his arrest. He was lodged in custody of his attorney, William D. Brinnier, Jr.

Morris Crystal owns a small pond just south of the village of Port Ewen which he leases to Kennelly for the purpose of keeping carp and other fish. Kennelly makes a business of selling fish. Crystal decided to swim in his pond and went there with that intention, but Kennelly refused to allow him to bathe for fear it might interfere with the keeping of fish in the pond. An argument followed over the question whether the leasing of the pond for keeping fish prevented the owner from bathing. Crystal claiming that the lease said nothing about swimming. The argument, it is alleged, led to an attack and Crystal decided to have Kennelly and his son arrested on a charge of assault.

The case will come up before Judge McKenna's court on Monday. The case of the son, Edward, who is 14 years old, will be brought to the attention of Judge Powell in children's court. It is alleged that the son went to the assistance of his father during the attack.

Chic One-Piece Dress of Sky-Blue Flannel

Sky-blue flannel is piped with white to make up this fascinating one-piece dress that should appeal to many young women.

Arms Are Heavy With Slave Link Bracelets

Links grip women fast in hand. At all fashionable gatherings, whether afternoon or evening, wrists are fairly weighted down with slave link bracelets. Nor is it on one hand only; but on both. The larger the link the smarter the bracelet, says the Dry Goods Economist. The newest chains are composed of three huge links only, which fit tight over the wrist. Unlike other arm adornments, they should not slip higher. Besides white and yellow gold, these bracelets use jade, coral, carnelian and onyx alternately with the metal link.

Interspersed with these are tiny chains, dangling every kind of amulet and charm, but usually those of the mah-jongg order, as China has a decided vogue this season. Overshadowed by links, but sparkling through them, are sapphires, rubies, emeralds—as many as one can afford. If real stones are not within one's reach, imitations replace them. This is a season of arm bands, and the smartest people stoop to good imitations.

In necklaces, silver beads and smoked pearls are particularly new. If one is daring enough, wear one white pearl earring and the other smoked.

Combined Printed and Plain Fabrics Favored

That a straight line is the shortest distance between two points was proved by Euclid, in 300 B. C. That the shortest cut to social success for a sports frock in 1924 A. D. is to combine printed and plain materials, especially when the skirt is sand-tinted crepe and the blouse, piquantly-colored cinderella silk, is demonstrated to everyone's satisfaction, by the successful model whose swag and even slightly boastful air is justified by the admiration it receives on its promenade. Still following in the mathematician's footsteps, geometrical patterns in vivid colorings are much liked this season. The coloring is in bright shades of orange, blue and rose, with a touch of the black which is never absent, either in design or background, from the fashionable silks. Such a costume is equally at home on the courts, the lipiks, or the beach, for it is as comfortable as it is smart. The low collar, the roomy sleeves, the ample pockets, are all built for speed, as one might say, as well as style. The skirt, of one of the new silk and gloss novelty satins, is much in the mode, with its deep inverted plait allowing for a firm "stance."

Another Use for Large Colored Silk Kerchiefs

If you have one of the large, colored silk handkerchiefs that were used so much recently, put it to a new use. Silt it from one corner diagonally across to within one inch of the opposite corner. Make a frock or blouse that has a low "V" neck opening. Sew each cut side of the handkerchief to the neck of the frock. This forms a very graceful jabot trimming, one of the latest whims of Dame Fashion. If you do not possess one of these scarfs get a 12 or 14-inch square of vividly-printed silk. Have it hemstitched around all four sides. Cut through the hemstitching to make a pilot edge. Use this square in the same way as you would the handkerchief. It is very smart to have your hat trimmed with the same material as your frock or to have it match a scarf worn with the hat.

Pretty Summer Frock

One may be as gay as one likes this summer and wear the most brilliant color schemes. A very simple and effective frock is made of Roman-striped silk. On the waist the stripes run cross-wise, while the skirt shows them running up and down. There are tiny set-in sleeves and a flat bow with long ends is attached to the bateau neckline in the center of the front, the ends hanging to the bottom of the skirt.

BRODHEADS.

Brodheads, Aug. 14.—A five reel motion picture will be shown in the Brodheads school house, Monday evening, August 18, at 8 o'clock, standard time. The picture has a story of romance, humor and it is instructive. After showing the film, refreshments will be served. Everybody welcome.

We Are Anxious to Help

Millions to Hear Coolidge Accept

2,000 Will Attend Notification Ceremony, but Radio and Amplifiers Will Carry His Message to Many Millions.

By Telegram to The Freeman
Washington, Aug. 14.—President Coolidge will formally accept the titular leadership of the Republican party tonight.

In the presence of the leaders of his party, he will receive the Republican presidential nomination and lay down the issues upon which he will wage his fight for continuance in office.

He will outline the achievements of the Harding-Coolidge administration and ask for the retention of Republican government.

Twenty-five million people, by far the largest audience ever addressed by one individual, will hear the president's speech through the medium of the radio.

William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, has completed arrangements for the linking up of twelve great broadcasting stations stretching clear to the Rocky Mountains in such fashion as to permit all who desire "to listen in."

An Impressive Scene.

Although the program is simple, the ceremony will take on a most colorful effect. Staged in the beautiful Continental-Memorial Hall, where the arms conference met, the setting will be abundant with floral decorations and the added atmosphere of the dress uniform of the presidential aides and high ranking officers of the army and navy. Approximately 2,000—including governors, senators, congressmen and members of the national committee—actually will be within the hall. Outside, huge amplifiers will carry the speech to the thousands unable to gain admittance.

Immediately following the invocation, delivered by the Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, the president's minister, Frank W. Mondell, will take the platform. As presiding officer of the Cleveland convention, he has been charged with the honor of heading the notification committee of 53 and of informing President Coolidge of his virtually unanimous nomination.

One Hour for Delivery.

The president will then deliver his address of acceptance. A comprehensive document containing approximately 6,500 words and dealing with every phase of America's foreign and domestic problems, it will take him about an hour to complete its reading.

Upon this acceptance speech the Republican campaign will be waged even more than upon the platform adopted at Cleveland. Its preparation has consumed nearly a month and it represents the composite thought of scores of prominent Republicans from every section of the country who have lent their advice and counsel.

The President and Mrs. Coolidge entertained the notification committee, composed of one representative of each state and territory, at luncheon today. This affair was the only social function held in connection with the notification ceremonies.

Talking Movies for Campaign.

Immediately after conclusion of his acceptance speech, the President and Mrs. Coolidge will return to the White House, where, in the presence of a limited number of their friends, will be demonstrated the newest adjunct to the president's campaign—the phonofilm, or "talking movies."

Last Monday Mr. Coolidge delivered a brief political address for this invention with the intention of using it throughout the country between now and election time.

Daddy's Evening Fairy Tale

QUEEN ANNE'S LACE

It was a warm, sunny day and Mahalia felt quite sleepy. She was sitting on a stump in a field near the farm where she was visiting some of her friends.

She thought she would get off the stump and lie down in the warm, sunny field.

It would be so nice to have a little nap.

So Mahalia stretched herself out and, after a few moments, it seemed to her the wild flowers in the meadow began to peep at her and to show her that they had little faces.

One flower was particularly lovely. This flower seemed to be made of lace. In fact, there were a great many little flowers clustered together, and each of them seemed to be wearing a lovely, dainty lace frock.

"You know who we are, don't you?" asked one of the flowers.

"I think," said Mahalia, "you are Queen Anne's Lace."

"Correct," said the little flower.

"And, as you see, there are many of us together. We're a friendly family and we have never become snobbish, even in spite of our clothes."

"I don't know what you mean by that," Mahalia said.

"Don't you?" The little flower speaking looked at Mahalia in a very puzzled way.

"I really don't," said Mahalia.

"Well, then, I will explain it to you."

"I do wish you would."

"You see," the little flower began, "we all wear dresses of lace."

"Some only wear dresses of lace

"You Are Queen Anne's Lace."

for very best. And, even then, maybe there is only a touch of lace about their dresses somewhere.

"They never wear lace dresses to play in or to work in or to go to school in."

"No, their lace dresses are entirely for dress-up times. But we always wear our lace dresses."

"You've never seen us dressed in cambric, or muslin, or cotton, or any other material."

"Always flower lace is what we wear."

"You see, years and years and years ago, over in Europe, from where the family first came, the first flower started the flower fashion."

"It would be nice if we always wore flower lace dresses," this first flower said.

"We would be different from other flowers in this way. We would have a style of our own and, instead of worrying about fashions and changes of styles, we could have our own style and our fashion and follow it year after year after year."

"As long as it is a beautiful style we will not get tired of it."

"Besides, it is the custom in the flower world to follow the same lovely styles."

"So let us all wear lace dresses, every one of us, all the time."

"Then," continued the little flower, "when the family came over from Europe they brought their own dresses with them in their own flower trunks."

"And we've never changed the style. We never will. Sometimes we are called Queen's Needlework, which is another word for sewing."

"Sometimes we are called Wild Carrot, because our roots in some cases are like carrots."

"But I wanted to tell you about our not being snobbish. You see, some creatures, when they are all dressed up, begin to put on airs."

"They act as though they were better than others. They look at the clothes of others and say:

"Dear, dear, what shockingly shabby clothes!"

"But we never turn up our lace noses at others. We will never be snobbish, even though we will always wear lace dresses. You see, we know that would be silly and vain and horrible—so we wear lace, but we act in a sensible, plain fashion."

Riddles

What is that which is often found where it is not? Fault.

How long did Cain hate his brother? As long as he was Abel.

What professional men generally work with a will? Lawyers.

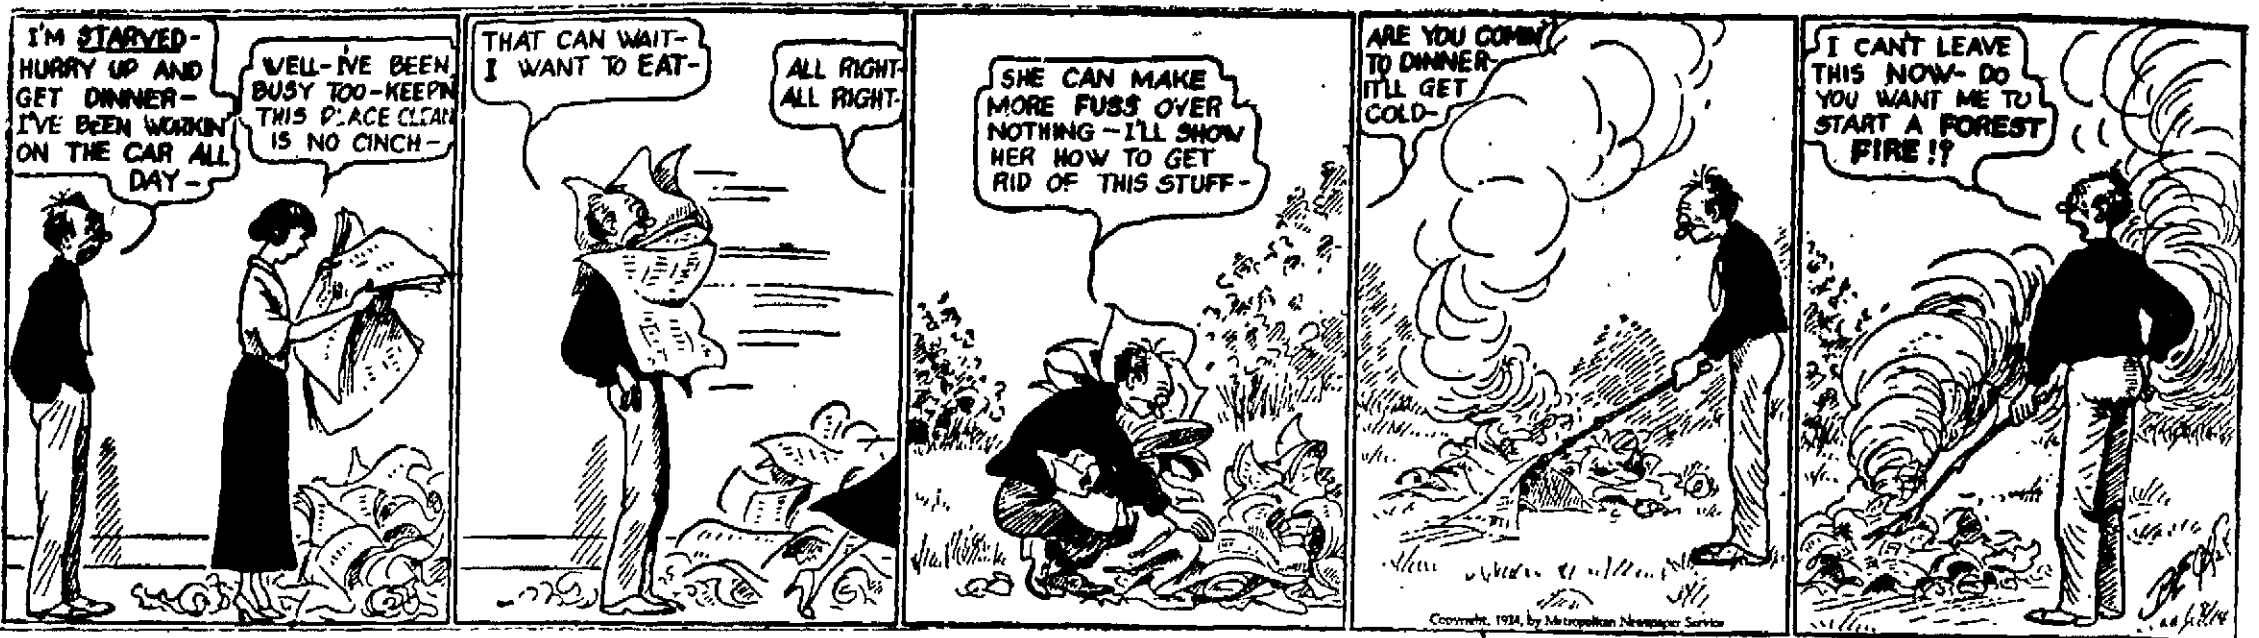

Why should men avoid the letter A? Because it makes men mean.

Why is a selfish friend like a letter F? Because it is the first in pity and the last in help.

GAS BUGGIES—It's Enough To Irritate Any Woman

The KITCHEN CABINET

The sweetest lives are those to duty wed,
Where deeds, both great and small,
Are close-knit strands of an unbroken thread,
Where love ennobles all.

THE STAFF OF LIFE

Bread is such a necessity in some form for all meals that we enjoy a few variations.

Whole Wheat Nut Bread.—Take two cupsful of scalded milk, add one-fourth of a cupful of sugar or molasses, one teaspoonful of salt, and when lukewarm add one one-yeast cake, which has been softened in one-fourth of a cupful of lukewarm water; add two cupsful of wheat flour and two and three-fourths cupsful of whole wheat flour, beat well and let rise until double its bulk; beat again, flour the board well and knead lightly, adding one cupful of broken walnut meats. Put into bread pans and when light, bake in a moderate oven.

Southern Spoon Bread.—Pour one cupful of boiling water over one-half cupful of cornmeal, stir, and cook for five minutes to keep from lumping. Add one-half teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful each of butter and sugar, one well-beaten egg and one-half cupful of milk. Pour into a well-buttered baking dish and bake in a moderate oven twenty minutes, letting it brown well before removing. Serve from the dish.

Bran Bread.—Take four cupsful of bran, two cupsful of whole wheat flour, three-fourths of a cupful of New Orleans molasses, a teaspoonful each of salt and soda, two cupsful of sweet milk, two tablespoonfuls of shortening, a few raisins or nuts if desired, and bake in a moderate oven one hour.

Fig Bread.—Take two cupsful of light bread dough, put into a bowl with one-half cupful of butter, a pound of sugar, a cupful of milk, a pound each of raisins and figs, a teaspoonful of salt, and spices to taste. Mix and place in bread pans. The fruit should be cut fine and be carefully blended with the dough. Two cupsful of flour will be needed. Bake when well risen. This will keep and be as good as most fruit cakes.

When food is burned on to cooking utensils, cover with soda and cold water, let stand for a few hours, and steel wool will remove every speck.

Don't Neglect That Back Hair If You'd Look Well Groomed

By MADAME LOUISE.

Nationally known authority on hairdress. Trustee of National Hairdressers' Assn.; executive board member of Chicago organization.

"Why, I never paid much attention to the back of my head," exclaimed the busy young lady. "I just put it up." That's what happens to a lot of hair. The front hair has been correctly parted and becomingly arranged, the back hair is just put up to be out of the way. The busy young lady at the right presents a much more graceful appearance with her hair drawn low over her ears, brushing that troublesome back hair smoothly, and winding it close to the head.

THE SAILOR COMES TO PORT.

(By Eleanor Gunn.)

The sailor having arrived, is variously interpreted. There is even a square-brimmed sailor, naturally enough, from Reboux, since this modiste scored so heavily with her little square satin ribbon hat last season. Of course, most of the sailors have a Spanish twang, some a mantilla drape, while others are made of felt trimmed with velvet. Hatter's plush still lends itself admirably to sailor types. Crowns have a way of being rather high, and some are telescoped.

Among the trimming features must be mentioned hand-painting, and this includes as well decorations in silver and gold. Hand-painted plaid felts are novel enough to focus attention, and gay enough to hold it. Cellaphane is another media, and bengaline—rather newer than satin—finds itself liked for sailors to almost the degree it was used for the mushrooms.

For those who are fascinated by novelty, there is an animal scarf made of shaded brown wool, and a hat trimmed with one can hardly say—imitation fur-trimming. Loops of wool have served before for collar and cuff trimmings, but these wool foxes are original and amusing, which is all some of us ask of Paris fashions.

"THEY ARE WEARING"—

Reg. U. S. Pat. Off.

Dancing at the Ritz the other evening a number of pink frocks were in evidence, the majority of which were on shell and flesh pink tints. Three or four noted were embellished with bead embroidery, one dotted with single rhinestones, and the other two with varicolored beads. The fourth dress boasted of a skirt trimmed with trailing sprays of ostrich.

An attractive evening wrap was fashioned from a large square of black silk Spanish lace. One corner was gathered on cords to form a rather stiff little collar to rest upon the shoulders, so that the rest of the wrap floated free in points down the back and over the arms.

White linen allover was embroidered with red designs featuring quaint figures in various poses. A cide fastening was noted in the front finished by upholstery fringe to match the embroidery, and also carried around the edge of the skirt.

Smart sports dress of Gobelin blue crepe de chine with immense appliqued motifs in gray on the lower part of the dress.

At Southampton over last week and a good deal of all white was worn. One woman chose a straight-line white chiffon with knee depth border of eyelid embroidery on the material and a very long scarf of the chiffon with ends finished in the same way. With this she wore a topaz colored hair hat wreathed with dandelions and other field flowers.

The Japanese garden of the Ritz one hot day this week brought forth not only several printed chiffons, but at least two such dresses with pleated capes of the same material. One of these had a black ground and was flowered with large rose pink motifs predominating. The cape was knee length, pleated and apparently separate and tied loosely around the neck with fine black lace banding. Another showed white flowers on black, the cape being shorter. A similar model, also black and white, was noted at the Westchester Biltmore Beach Club. (Fairchild Fashion Service.)

DOCTOR HELD FOR BROTHER-IN-LAW'S SLAYING.

MRS. CURTIS W. EMERY.

DAVID M. NOBLE & DR. R.D. THIERY

Dr. Raymond D. Thiery, of Somerville, Mass., was arrested and held during the shooting of David M. Noble, his brother-in-law, when Mrs. Curtis W. Emery, a neighbor, told authorities she had seen no one leave the Thierys home, although Dr. Thiery said the killing was done by a burglar. Dr. Thiery also said he was attacked, and exhibited cuts he said were made by the intruder. The police theory is that Dr. Thiery cut himself with a small pen knife. The gun with which the shooting is said to have been done has been found in Dr. Thiery's residence.

Public Utility Securities

Operating under control of the State Public Service Commission, this company does not make profits in the sense that the term is generally understood. Its rates for service are designed to secure earnings sufficient for the following purposes:

1.—To take care of operating expenses.

2.—To pay interest or dividends on outstanding securities and borrowed money.

Therefore, the issue of new capital securities is practically the only source from which plant extensions and improvements can be financed.

The rapid growth of the gas and electric companies in the Central Hudson System requires continual extensions of the gas mains and the electric lines. It means increases in manufacturing and generating equipment, new transmission and distributing lines, services, meters, etc. All of this new work is estimated from one to five years in advance, in order that provision may be made for the money needed and that the service may be ready when the demand comes.

Budgets covering these extensions and improvements are carefully prepared by each department, approved by the management and authorized by the board of directors. These requirements are then presented to the Public Service Commission, together with a petition for permission to issue securities. It is from the sale of these securities, authorized only after careful investigation by the Commission, that money is procured to carry on the public service we render.

Operating in this way, under the control of the State Commission, your gas and electric company is restricted in its earnings. But in return, it is granted what is in effect a natural monopoly under the Public Service Commission Law, which acts as a protection to the consumer and the investor alike.

WHEAT IS WONDER GRAIN OF WORLD

What Is This Bounty of Nature Upon Which Many Millions Depend?

Washington.—What effect will the price of wheat have on the election this fall? News bulletins forecast the wheat crop. Political parties claim candidates can be elected if the price of wheat goes up. The first million dollar clean-up has been reported. Historians have pointed out that wheat or the need of it has caused wars. Just what is this bounty of nature upon which millions depend and which millions know only as bread?

As far as known there was no cultivated wheat on the American continent when Columbus arrived but today the United States leads the world in production of this cereal.

In 1923 the wheat output of the United States was 781,737,000 bushels while in 1850 it was only one hundred million bushels. In 1919 production jumped to 967,979,000 bushels due to the call of war. Every grain of this wheat was much the same, the American Nature association points out.

Wheat belongs to the grass family. Its family name is Hordeae, and if the system of the genealogy books were followed four main branches would be found: Common wheat, Egyptian or English wheat, Flint, Durum or Macaroni wheat and Dwarf wheat. The family tree would show many offshoots from each of these groups: wheats with interesting names like Turkey Red, Blue Stem, Scotch Fife, Golden Chaff and Bearded Winter Fife; red wheats and white wheats, winter wheats and spring wheats; hard wheats and soft wheats.

Many Kinds Developed.

Through centuries of cultivation, in varying climates and in different soils through experiment, through crossing and mixing, myriad kinds of wheats have developed.

On the outside the kernel wears an overcoat composed of cellulose. Next is a coat, and then a vest composed of bran. The kernel is still further protected by a shirt of gluten cells. Then comes the wheat kernel itself, with tiny indentations at the bottom where the germ of the new plant is stored. In different kinds of wheat the relative sizes of these coverings and the kernel vary, deciding the wheat's value and use.

There are winter wheats and spring wheats. The former is sowed and gains a foothold in the fall, and the latter is put in the ground in the spring.

The weight and size of the wheat kernel determines the flour yield. Flour made from hard wheat is the chief bread flour. That which is milled from soft wheat is best for crackers, cake and pastry. Durum flour makes a sticky dough fitted for the making of macaroni, into which more than 100,000,000 bushels of the output of the United States goes. Graham flour is made from the whole grain ground into powder, while whole wheat flour, not as coarse as graham, is made from grinding what is left after the bran layers are removed.

But nature makes man work to save his wheat. How many know a black stem rust of grain, annually taking a toll of some fifty million dollars' worth of potential food products in the North Central states, is a disease which can be cured?

Has Its Enemies.

In the plant world the "germ" of a disease is sometimes known as a "spore." Like the typhoid germ, the black stem rust spore breeds in certain places. Instead of choosing filth for its birthplace, however, its early days are spent on the leaves of the beautiful, common barberry bush, known to many attractive lawns and gardens, and when it leaves the barberry it romps through the fields on the wings of the summer breeze.

There are two good methods for removing the common barberry. One is to dig it up, being sure to get every bit of the roots. A bit of root left in the ground may send up sprouts furnishing a spring-time home for the rust spore. A more certain method than digging is to pour ten to fifteen pounds of common rock salt upon the roots of the plant.

A complete story of wheat is not only the story of the pioneers and their covered wagons but a story of the world. As frontiers were flung westward, wheat followed the tide of settlement. Today it grows in the soil of forty-three states. It creates economic and agricultural problems with which legislators, economists and business men as well as the farmer must grapple.

One day in prehistoric times a man set out with a rude hoe and started to cultivate wheat. There is no evidence that this grain grew wild and was of value without the help of man. Nature, as with many of its gifts, gave the means, leaving it for man to find the way. Grains of wheat have been found in the tombs of Egypt, and ancient records chronicle its cultivation and use for food.

U. S. Girl Qualifies as Life Saver.

Although she is only 17 years old, Jean Corbett, of New York, successfully underwent tests for admission to the Royal Life Saving Society of England. She is the first American girl to receive a diploma from the society. The tests were extremely difficult.

Women Surely Have Keen Sense of Money Values

If the average woman were without a sense of money values, as charged by a budget expert, the average American family would have less money in the bank than it has. Eliminating the girl who lives at home and can spend her earnings for pretty things, and whose extravagance is one of the manifestations of her youth, it would have been fairer to say the average housewife of America has a very keen appreciation of the value of money and how hard it is for the husband to earn it. It is probably quite true that women do not budget their expenses; neither did the great United States government until a few years ago. If the budget expert would go into the stores patronized by the wives of wage earners and note with what care and anxiety the customers spend their money and how anxious they are to get full value, she might revise her judgment a bit. With due respect to the paragraphers, the women are shrewd buyers. The hardly saved dollars which bulk so large in savings fund reports and bank deposits are where they are because the women of the country have put them there, often against the will of their husbands. The average man is a much swifter spender than a woman, and despite the jokes of the paragraphers and comic artists, all women do not throw away money on innumerable hats and gowns. The budget expert did less than justice to her own sex when she criticized their financial acumen.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

COMMISSIONER WILL DETERMINE FARE INCREASE

Albany, Aug. 14.—The application of Harry Elliott, operator of a bus route between the ferry landing at Highland and the hamlet of Gardiner, for an increase of fare was heard by Public Service Commissioner Oliver C. Semple Wednesday. Mr. Elliott represented by A. W. Lent of Highland. No one appeared in opposition. Mr. Elliott quoted figures from his books to show that for the first six months of this year operating expenses nearly equalled the income, paying him nothing for his own services. The amount that the fare should be increased, if an increase is found necessary, was left to the commission to determine.

Bold Hold-Up at Highland Park

The store of John Smith at the Highland amusement park, Highland, was the scene of a hold-up by four masked men armed with revolvers early Sunday morning. Ralph Pape, who sleeps on the premises, was awakened by the entry of four men, one of them covering him with a revolver, while the others proceeded to take what they wanted. After completing their work they sped away in a high powered automobile. Among the articles taken were $100 in cash, 20 boxes of cigars, cigarettes, tobacco and other articles amounting to about $500. State Troopers are working on the case and have found several important clues, which they are following.

Today he received instructions to go to Washington to be thanked in person by President Coolidge and Postmaster General New on Friday afternoon.

Outlaw Queen Could Be All Feminine at Times

Belle Starr, outlaw queen of the old days in Texas and Oklahoma, wore her hair short and was particularly sweet to women, says the Detroit News. She lived for years on the proceeds of loot and lined up a gang of the meanest-looking, hardest cursing, wildest riding and shooting hard-boiled customers in her particular parts of the cow country.

She used to call at women's houses on her way home from leading her band on a robbery, and she would talk feminine things with them, sing religious songs and tell stories to the children.

Several stories are told of the way Belle Starr met her death. The generally accepted one is that she was assassinated by a man named Edgar A. Watson, who had gone to Oklahoma in the '80s and started farming near her place. It is told they became enemies in a dispute over land rental. Anyway, February 2, 1899, so the version has it, a double-barreled shotgun did the work.

Demons and Storms
Evil spirits and demons were held by the ancients to be responsible for great winds and storms at sea. Horace, in his writings, lamented the rashness of those who tempted the fates by trying to pass the boundaries that the gods had interposed between the continents. The discovery of the Cape of Good Hope was long delayed by the fear of the storm fiends which infested the African coast, though only at Peel, in the Isle of Man, have I ever heard that the seafaring people were astute enough to capture the author of all the mischief, which is at least comforting. —Montreal Family Herald.

Some Punkins!
Western Exchange—The letter "P" is the most important in the alphabet, because it leads all others in perfection. It is likewise first in peace and prosperity and gives pleasure in its proper form. It is found in every enterprise and aspiration and without its valuable office the anchor of hope would be but a commonplace hoe. Besides being foremost in philosophy, it is at the front in patriotism, patience and piety. Purpose has no meaning without it and the pyramids are built upon its base. —Boston Transcript.

Silk Worm Eggs Top World Value

THE most valuable hatching eggs in the world are the eggs of the silkworm. They average a net profit to the farmers of China and Japan of $47.50 per ounce, according to a report issued today by the Silk Institute, located at Indianapolis, Indiana.

In the warm climates of Europe and the Far East where the silkworm industry flourishes, a farmer with a small grove of mulberry trees can produce 90 pounds of cocoons from an ounce of eggs. If the cocoons sell at 75 cents a pound, the profit is around $67.50 against an average cost of $20 for expenses, making the total profit on an ounce of eggs $47.50.

Output of Cement at Record Mark In Contrast with Other Materials

No Cut In Production Shown By Data Of Government

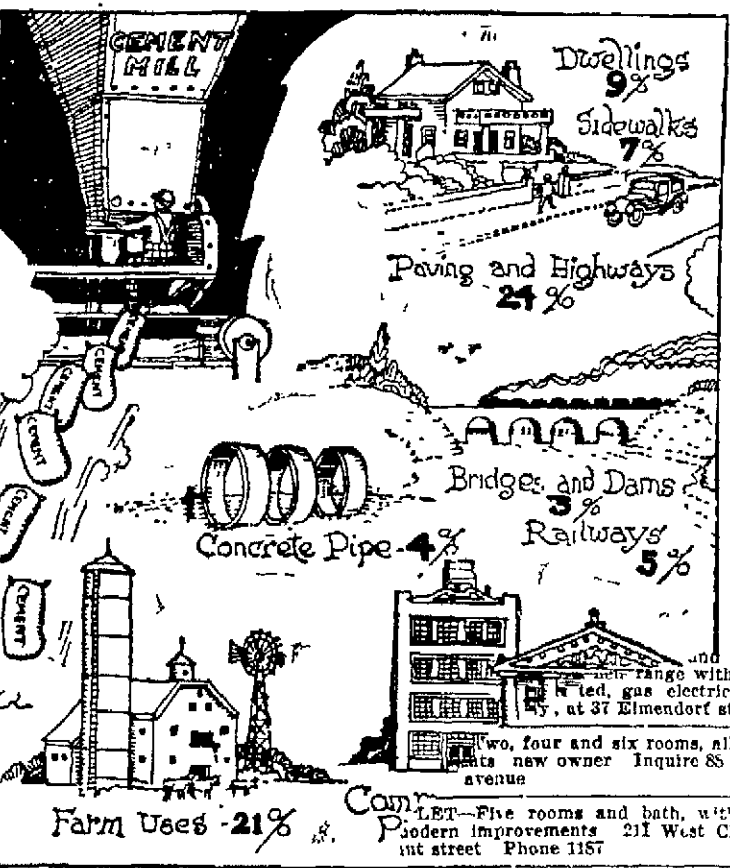

RECENT government reports of business activity which in a national election year are regarded with more than ordinary interest show that one of the determining commodity factors generally considered in gauging the future, is establishing new high records. That factor is Portland cement, which, according to the latest figures, presents a rather sharp contrast with other basic materials used in the building industry, such as steel, lumber and copper.

Geological survey statistics for the first six months of this year show a production for the period in excess of even last year which established the highest output up to that time, and for the month of June, shipments greater than in any previous month.

One of the interesting features of the situation is that this extraordinary volume of production and shipments has still left, month by month comparatively larger stocks of cement at the mills than existed for the same months last year. These facts are regarded by economists as showing that no control or curtailment of production exists in this industry.

The relation of cement to the employment of common labor in road building and of both common and skilled labor in other construction sheds considerable light on activities in other fields. It is estimated that Portland cement is used in about the following proportions:

Public and commercial buildings	25
Dwellings	9
Sidewalks, private drives	7
Various farm uses	21

The Department of Commerce gives the index number of cement shipments in June as 202 (numbering the shipments of 1913 as 100 for comparison). This compares with a production index of 79 for pig iron, 81 for steel ingots, 124 for copper, and 131 for lumber (base 1919 equal to 100). The Financial and Commercial

By Telegram to The Freeman.
New York, Aug. 14.—Stocks displayed a firm tone today as realizing sales came to an end for the time being, and speculative traders again favored the long side of the market.
Independent steel stocks were attacked in the first period. Crucible was pounded down to 49, but staged a good comeback and sold 2 points higher. Federal mining and Smelters preferred sold up to a new high at 49 1/2.
While industrials made their best showing in the first period, the railroads, which has lagged behind, came into prominence around noon and higher prices were received for most of the active stocks in this group. Baltimore and Ohio, Lehigh Valley, Reading, St. Louis, San Francisco preferred, the St. Paul, Canadian Pacific and Northern Pacific were prominent in this period. Frisco preferred going to a new high at 57 1/2.

Industrial stocks, including railway equipments, coppers and active specialties, displayed excellent form throughout the whole session.

General Electric staged a strong rally in which it rose about six points to a new high on the present movement; Mack Trucks sold up 3 points to a new high at 97½; Marine preferred led a brisk upward movement in the shipping stocks; American Woolen, American Telephone and Telegraph, Westinghouse Electric and others of the standard dividend-paying industrials showed the effects of a stronger investment demand.

Colonials Hand Boston Braves 3 to 2 Trimming

Effective Hurling by Jack Warhop and Slugging by Raskin and Deegan Prove Too Much For Big Leaguers—Dugan and Flynn Contribute Some Sensational Fielding—Braves Have Regular Line-up.

They've done it! Last evening at the Fair Grounds, the Colonials made their third attempt in the past two seasons to score a win over a Big League team and the end of nine innings found them successful by a 3-2 score. The Boston Braves of the National League were the team that the Colonials took into camp but it was not until after the last man was down in the ninth inning that the locals were sure of victory.

Little Jack Warhop and Tubby Raskin were the heroes of the fray. Except in the seventh inning when the Braves bunched four hits off his delivery, Warhop had the big leaguers eating out of his hand. A single in the first and another in the fifth were the only other safeties garnered off his delivery. In only three innings did more than three of the visiting batsmen face the Yankee hurler and but three Braves got past second base, two of them scoring. In addition to all that, Jack set seven men down on strikes and did not issue a single pass.

Raskin Has Field Day. Aside from the fine twirling of Warhop the big feature was the hitting of Tubby Raskin. "Maw-russ" clouted the ball for a triple to right field in the first inning with Leo Dugan on second, thereby accounting for the first Colonial tally. In the fourth inning he poled a homer over the hat sign in left field. But for Raskin's big stick the Colonials would be lacking the winning tallies. Bill Schwab and Matty Deegan were the only other Colonials to get more than one safety off the combined deliveries of Yeargin and "Red" Lucas. Deegan's line drive in the fifth inning that went for two bases had a large label, "Home" when it left his bat. The ball landed on the top of the left field fence and bounded back into the playing field and Deegan was held on second. The ball hit near the fifth pole past the Highway Displays sign and was the longest ever hit to left field.

Rain For Part of Game. When Empire Fitzsimmons called play at 5:40 it was raining quite steadily and it did not seem likely that more than five innings could be finished. It cleared off at the start of the sixth session however and a full nine innings were passed. Colonials Score First! Leo Dugan was the first man to face Yeargin in the opening inning and greeted the Boston twirler with a sharp single to center. Yeargin tried to fool "Rabbit" with a slow one but instead, Leo timed the ball nicely and ended up at first base. Deegan lifted a high one which Smith camped under and on McCue's blow to the box, Dugan advanced to second. Tubby Raskin sent Dugan scurrying over the plate with the first tally of the game with a terrific swing over Mann's head. Raskin easily made third on the blow and was left stranded when Flynn hoisted to "Mickey" O'Neil.

Dugan Makes Sensational Play. A single to left field in the first inning with two out was the only Brave bingle until the fifth. Then Shay, with one out, hit over second for one base. Leo Dugan made a sparkling catch on Smith in the third inning. Smith hit what looked like a sure Texas Leaguer over short to open the third. Dugan came in fast and everyone expected he would play the ball on the first bounce. That is, everyone but Leo thought so. He raced at full speed and caught the pellet off his shoetops for one of the finest catches pulled at the park this season. Warhop retired the Braves with two strike-outs to finish the inning.

Dugan Stars Again. After Yeargin had fanned in the sixth, Wilson hit a looping drive over second and again the diminutive Dugan saved trouble by making a spectacular capture. Padgett ended the sixth with a drive to deep short which Flynn handled nicely, making a pretty peg to first. Schwab singled for the locals in the second inning but Yeargin tightened up and fanned Coyle and Warhop and getting Robins on a long fly to center. Raskin set the crowd wild and made Yeargin wonder if he wasn't pitching to Babe Ruth's twin by making his second extra-base hit of the day, a home run over the left field barrier. The ball was right in Tubby's groove and that was quite enough.

Colonials Score Winning Run. Robins opened the fifth with a tap down the first base line which Yeargin fielded cleanly but threw wild to first. Robins went to second on the wild peg. Warhop fled to Shay and when Leo Dugan was retired on a grounder to the box, it appeared as though the Braves would not lose anything by their twirler's misplay. Deegan changed the outlook by lacing the ball to deep left field. The breaks were against Deegan or he would have had a homer to match Raskin's. As it was, the ball landed on top of the fence and bounded back directly into Powell's hands. Robins came in with what proved to be the winning marker and Deegan brought up at second. Again in the sixth the Colonials put men on the bases but this time couldn't furnish the punch to score. Raskin went out on a fly to Shay. Flynn waited out Yeargin and got a pass to first. Schwab put in his second hit of the day, a hot grounder past Smith. Flynn brought up at second. Coyle lifted one in short center field which Powell could easily have caught. Instead he chose to trap the ball, getting it on the first bounce. Schwab was forced at second on this play, Coyle reaching first and Flynn going to third. Robins' best effort was a long foul fly to left field of which Padgett made a pretty catch. He was running with his back to the ball and caught it over his shoulder.

Braves Rally. The seventh inning brought its usual rally but this time it was the visiting aggregation that staged the run getting. Mann tried to bunt but McCue swooped down like a hawk on the ball, his peg beating Mann to the bag by several feet. McInnis fouled off several balls and ended up with driving one down the third base line for a safety. Powell singled through short, Schwab holding McInnis to second. Shay sent over the first Boston run with a liner to center, Powell going to third. O'Neil fled to Schwab. Smith put Warhop in a bad hole with a double down the left field foul line scoring Powell and putting the tieing run on third base and the winning tally on second.

Johnson Stars Here Tomorrow

Friday evening, at 8:15 o'clock the Chapple Johnson All-Stars will again be the attraction at the Fair Grounds. Russell will probably receive the pitching assignment for the Schrickmen. Saturday the Colonials will play their opening game at Margareville. The Chapple team will also be the opponents at Margareville. On Sunday at the Fair Grounds the McConnell Giants will be the attraction.

TAGGING ALL THE BASES

IN THE MAJOR LEAGUES

The Yankees came back home and swept into first place when they won both games from the Browns while the Tigers were breaking even with the Athletics. The Yankee-Brown games furnished two pitching duels, one between southpaws and the other between right handers. Penneck won over Wingard in the first, 1 to 0, each allowing 4 hits. Bush had the edge on Shocker in the second, New York winning 2 to 1. After the Tigers had grabbed the first 8 to 4, and had a lead of 6 runs in the second, Stoner blew up and the Athletics rapped out 7 runs. The Tigers tied it up, but Leonard, pitching for the first time since his reinstatement, allowed the winning run in the eleventh—score 8 to 7. The Giants lost some ground when they were defeated by the Pirates in the first game of the series, 4 to 2, their lead being cut to six games. The Red Sox crawled out of the cellar when they defeated the White Sox in both games, 6 to 0, and 4 to 1.

Coveleskie pitched one of his best games when the Indians checked the Senators' advance, 5 to 1.
